

SECURING THE BUSINESS OF HEALTH AND THE HEALTH OF YOUR BUSINESS

MARKETPLACE CHALLENGE

The growing epidemic of counterfeit drugs and medications, vital health records, and birth and death certificates, erodes the public's trust in the healthcare industry, putting patients and the entire industry at risk.

Approximately 10% of the global pharmaceutical commerce – over $21 billion dollars – involves counterfeit drugs. This illicit trade siphons off profits, reducing the funds available for research and development while providing nothing but false hope to patients and health care professionals.

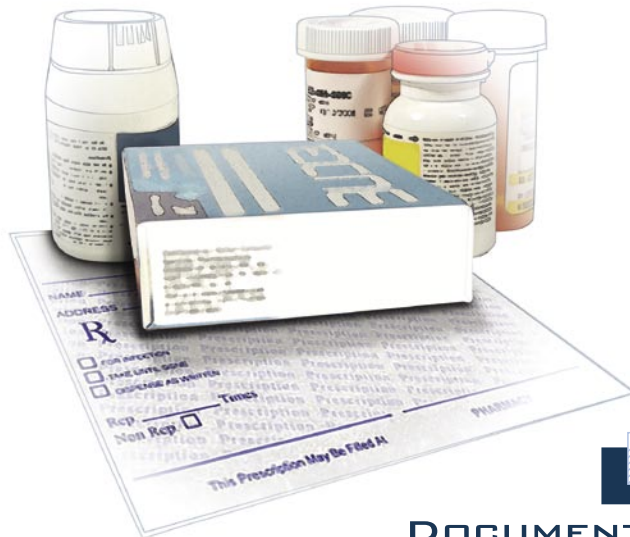

And because of the proliferation of look-alike products, counterfeit records and documents, repackaged or relabeled medications and outright placebos sold under counterfeit brand names, consumers on all levels need a way to quickly and accurately authenticate pharmaceuticals, vital records, certificates and more.
